Wholesale Excess and Surplus Lines Brokers Serving Retail Agents Since 1982

Another E&O “nerd” joins our team!

Donald Gaddis Co. is thrilled to announce that Robert McMonigle has joined us to expand our capabilities on E&O/D&O/EPL lines. Robert has spent the last 7 years at a national wholesale brokerage selling all lines of professional liability from Minnesota to Alabama, California to New York.

While well versed in D&O, EPL, Misc E&O, Crime and Fiduciary, he has specialized in Insurance Agents, Real Estate Agents and hard to place Lawyers E&O. While studying improv and looking forward to being a struggling comedian, the glamour of professional liability insurance was a draw he couldn't resist. After a brief time away from insurance, he found that professional liability was in his soul. While working another job, when listening to co-workers complain about the work environment, Robert tried to figure out if and how their complaints would be covered under an EPL policy. It was then he knew he must return to the world of insurance.

Donald Gaddis Co. represents over 70 of the leading specialty and E&S carriers. With our excellent carrier relationships, state of the art paperless technology and a can-do, helpful attitude on the part of every staff member, we provide the tools for Robert to make your most challenging risks a quick, hassle-free pleasure to place.

Please join us in extending a warm welcome to Robert and give him a call with your toughest challenges. Find out what a powerful combination the marriage of technology, experience, and enthusiasm can create.
